

Living Independently with Hearing Loss

Hearing loss affects one-third of people ages 65 to 74 and half of people over 75. Untreated, hearing loss can lead to frustration and isolation. We have tips and tools that can help!

Join this chat to learn more about:

- How to make communication easier.
- What assistive technology you can use.
- How to request accommodations.
- What the laws say about access.
- How Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services Division can help.

Continuing Education (CE)

For social workers

The Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services Division is a Minnesota Board of Social Work approved continuing education provider. Up to 1 hour of continuing education clock hours are available for social workers attending this training.

For nurses

This activity has been designed to meet the Minnesota Board of Nursing continuing education requirements. However, the nurse is responsible for determining whether this activity meets the requirements for acceptable continuing education.
